Bringing Sound to your Story!

A Creative Outreach of Cenece Dixon Publishing

Congratulations on becoming a published author! Your story is now available to the world. I am excited that you have chosen to take advantage of the power of the Internet and share your message in audio, (mp3) format. Not only will your message be available for download on your favorite laptop, phone or tablet, but it will also be available to those who are sight challenged, or those who simply enjoy listening. You also have the option of having a CD duplicated by a trusted professional. As the new Audio Director at Cenece Dixon Publishing, I am excited to share this audible journey with you. I endeavor to provide quality sound, and emotion to your story that will convey your message with power and grace.
