

Mothers

She willingly cradled you in the warmth of her womb

Her heartbeat a gentle caress

Daily she nourished you from her very essence

And protected you from all duress

Nine months of cherished expectancy,

For the moment to see your face

Nine months she prayed the prayer of faith

That you'd be whole by God's grace

On her countenance, she wore the beauty of motherhood

For she had been placed in High Esteem

For every mother's been given special gifts

That have been perfected by Christ, The King!

He has equipped her with the desire

To love so compassionately

And the uncompromising compassion

To love what she could not see

And although she suffered an unthinkable pain

Through her tears she was able to smile

The very first instant you took your first breath

And she could behold her child!

Thank you, for loving me Mom

Happy Mother's Day 2018
